

Intellicus Recognized Amongst Top Business Intelligence and Analytics Solutions for 2019

Oregon, United States, April 2019: Intellicus has been recognized amongst the Top Business Intelligence and Analytics Solutions for 2019 by SoftwareWorld, a leading software review and rating website. The list has been curated as a part of its annual series and includes the most credible and functional Business Intelligence Softwares. The companies have been shortlisted after careful analysis of several qualitative and quantitative parameters.

As a BI product company, Intellicus has been at the forefront of delivering a world class BI and analytics experience to all our users. Our customizable and modular solution has made us the product of choice for more than 14,000 large & small-scale enterprises across the globe. Our flexible architecture and robust integration framework has won major OEM relationships with leading ISVs. With features like built-in data science, machine learning, OLAP, real time analytics and more, Intellicus is a future ready business intelligence platform to meet all types of BI needs, across different verticals.

More information about the list is available at: <https://www.softwareworld.co/best-business-intelligence-software/>